Purified Lubricants, Inc.
"on-site oil recyclers"

January 12, 2006

It is Purified Lubricants' immense pleasure to recommend the superior products and services offered by Henek Manufacturing. Purified Lubricants has presented an on-site oil recycling service for over 24 years. With the assistance of Henek Manufacturing, Purified Lubricants is able to meet or exceed any OEM specifications for ISO cleanliness.

Our company operates permanently mounted filtration equipment installed on 24-foot box trucks, which is able to process numerous grades of oil at our customer's location. We are able to reclaim severely contaminated oils back to virgin specifications with the use of Henek filter elements. Our company processes large volume accounts ranging from nuclear power plants to smaller injection molding facilities.

In our opinion, Henek Manufacturing rivals all competitors in superiority and excellence. The owner of Henek Manufacturing continues to excel at updating company technological advancements not only in filter elements, but also techniques in machinery lubrication protection. It is to our belief that Henek Manufacturing will continue to outperform all endeavors it faces in an era of never ending lubrication challenges. If there are any questions, which remain unclear to the ability that Henek Manufacturing possesses, please feel free to contact me personally at any time.

Sincerely,

Rob Maloney

Vice President of Operations
